

NSWCPD CAREER DAYS

Naval Surface Warfare Center Philadelphia Division (NSWCPD) offers a variety of opportunities to talk to students about careers and career paths to inspire, educate, and motivate them to pursue careers related to Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics (STEM). These opportunities include presentations, informal discussions, career panels, and more!

Career Day Programs

Take Our Children to Work Day (4th Thurs. in April): NSWCPD invites employees' children for a glimpse into life in the workplace.

Cybersecurity Sprint: An 8-10 day HS program based around cybersecurity education. Students learn computer programming, networking, encryption, and more.

Soft Robotics: A 2-day hands-on project based learning module for MS and HS students that combines chemistry, material science, and mechanics.

National Engineers Week STEM Celebration (Feb.): NSWCPD invites students to participate in a celebration of National Engineer's Week at NSWCPD.

Making Waves: A hands-on demonstration to K-12 students on wave mechanics where the students get to see, hear, and manipulate the waves.

Career Days & Speaking Engagements (Sept.-May):

NSWCPD sends workforce members to schools for speaking engagements and STEM demonstrations for in-school Career Days and more.

Summer Camps (June-Aug.): NSWCPD participates in a variety of STEM summer camps at partner institutions and invites students for career discussions and tours.

NSWCPD also provides resources for hands-on demonstrations and project based learning related to a student's career field and NSWCPD's mission. These opportunities are available in school, after school, and in the workplace. This often includes a special emphasis on groups historically underrepresented in STEM fields.
