

Captain Stephen F. Williamson

CAPT Stephen F. Williamson hails from Bowie, Maryland. He entered the Navy through the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps program at the University of Maryland, College Park and George Washington University, where he earned his degree in Economics in 1988.

He earned his surface warfare qualification on USS Lynde McCormick (DDG 8) and had a tour on the USS Long Beach (CGN 9) before attending the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) in Monterey California.

While at NPS, he transferred to the Engineering Duty Officer (EDO) community and upon graduation, he received a Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering degree.

His waterfront maintenance tours include: Deputy Project Superintendent at Norfolk Naval Shipyard; Mine Warfare Type Desk Officer at Commander Naval Surface Forces Atlantic; Officer in Charge Fleet Technical Support Center det Mayport; Combat Systems Repair Officer, Southeast Regional Maintenance Center; Officer in Charge, Ship Repair Facility and Japan Regional Maintenance Center det Sasebo, Japan; Operations Officer at Puget Sound Naval Shipyard and Intermediate Maintenance Facility.

CAPT Williamson completed an Individual Augmentee tour for CENTCOM before reporting to Puget Sound Naval Shipyard & Intermediate Maintenance Facility where he served as the Business and Operations Officer, Production Resource Officer and Operations Officer, prior to becoming the 48th Commander of PSNS & IMF.

CAPT Williamson is authorized to wear various personal awards including the Navy Meritorious Service Medal, Joint Service Commendation Medal, Navy Commendation Medal and Navy Achievement Medal.