

Meghan joined Dog Tag Inc. as Chief Operating Officer in early 2012 after six years of experience in the financial sector, having worked for Lehman Brothers, Barclays Capital, and Macquarie Group in New York. In January of 2015, Meghan took over as Chief Executive Officer for the organization to oversee the daily management of Dog Tag Inc. Over the past four years, Meghan has partaken in board development, implementation of the education and the operations of running the Fellowship program. Meghan leads her team and oversees the operations of the business and program as well as developing strategic partners for future growth. Meghan comes from a military family with both her father and sister graduating from the Naval Academy and serving in the United States Marine Corps.