

COMPACFLT and NAVSEA present the
Fleet Corrosion Control Forum (FCCF)
Tuesday, March 18, 2003
Convention Center Marriott, San Diego
Registration Information

To register, fax this form to Merritt Allen, 703-413-3808 (voice line 703-413-3800)

Conference cost, including program, lunch, continental breakfast and breaks, is $60 for government participants (uniformed military or GS employee) and $70 for non-government participants.

Name (last, first, MI):

Rank/grade (if applicable):

Phone number/e-mail address:

Organization:

Organization address:

Credit card type: Visa MasterCard

Credit card number:
(you may call this in to 703-413-3800 if you prefer)

Credit card expiration:

Credit card authorization (if required):

Credit card billing address:

Fleet Corrosion Control Forum (FCCF)
Tuesday, March 18, 2003
General Information

Where: San Diego Marriott Hotel and Marina (near the Convention Center), 333 W. Harbor Drive, 619-234-1500.

When: 0800-1700, Tuesday, March 18.

Who: DoD, Navy, NAVSEA and Fleet engineering and maintenance personnel. Contractors and vendors welcome also.

Why: Find out about the latest innovations in Fleet corrosion control and how they can improve your material readiness. FCCF offers participants the opportunity to meet with NAVSEA personnel and identify current corrosion issues, and will include a review of existing program efforts and the identification of future solutions.

FCCF is being held in conjunction with CORROSION 2003, the world's largest corrosion control symposium. CORROSION 2003 is held annually by the National Association of Corrosion Engineers (NACE). Registration for FCCF will not grant you entry for the NACE programs, but full and one-day registrations are available at www.nace.org.

FCCF participants must make their own travel and lodging requirements. For more information, contact Merritt Allen at 703-413-3800, or mallen@ces-inc.cc.