Vessel History

Deployment Summary	Deployments to the Atlantic, Mediterranean, and Western Pacific, with the primary mission of antisubmarine warfare. Part of Submarine Group; deployed during the Kosovo War in 1999. In its more than 32-year career, ALBUQUERQUE deployed more than 19 times, steamed more than 500,000 miles, and visited nearly 20 countries. The ALBUQUERQUE was also one of the first nuclear submarines to experience combat, gaining the moniker of “Sure Shooter of the Submarine Force” while

	successfully launching 10 Tomahawk cruise missiles during the Kosovo war in 1999. On her 19th and final regular deployment, while operating in the Fifth Fleet’s area of responsibility, ALBUQUERQUE conducted several missions of vital importance to national security. She participated in exercises with the Royal Australian Navy and made port calls in Australia, Oman, and Diego Garcia. ALBUQUERQUE was capable of supporting various missions, including anti-submarine warfare, anti-surface ship warfare, strike warfare, and intelligence, surveillance and reconnaissance.
Awards	2 FS (1992, 1993); 3 MU (85, 89, 97); 2 NE (89, 97) 1 SC (91)
Noteworthy Events	In 2005, an onboard USN Petty Officer was discovered to be passing secret information to Russia. After pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 12 years in prison in 2006 and received a dishonorable discharge. When the boat was commissioned, then-Albuquerque Mayor Harry Kinney gave the commander a set of keys to a Rolls-Royce and issued a challenge: The first skipper who brought the sub up the Rio Grande to Albuquerque could claim the classic luxury car. It became a tradition for the keys to be handed over to the new commanding officer at each change-of-command ceremony. The current holder of the keys – Cmdr. Don Tenney – said he’d like to see the keys returned to Mayor Richard Berry “for posterity.”
